THE WEATHER.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—For Ohio, fair tonight except snow in northeast portions; Tuesday fair, not so cold.

There are a number of fellows in Ohio who are beating the bushes for private employment.

It is to be hoped, even prayed for,
that "no news is good news" for the trampled populace of Russia.

Congress convened today, and it won't be long until everybody will be again advised that the trusts of the country own the government.

The passing of Thanksgiving caused us all in the advance in the price of turkeys. The cost of this toothsome bird is soaring for the holidays.

The time is not very far distant when Roosevelt will be fully advised that he has lost his fight for legislation governing railroad rates.

The new general assembly of Ohio will have to make haste if it wants to beat Russia to the promulgation of an election law that will be satisfactory to the people.

Governor-elect Patterson has contracted a hard cold, but no enterprising newspaper man has had the effrontery to state that Mr. Patterson will resort to the cup that cheers to cure it.

Cuba is ripe for a revolution such as this country experienced last month.
Investigation of the affairs of the island has shown conclusively that it is absolutely under the control of grafters and political adventurers.

The Sultan of Turkey will get that big fight for which he is spilling, and when he does, it will result in victory for the powers, and in what many term another step in advancing civilization, even if the six hundred thousand and soldiers he has in the field are decimated to a man.

It may be necessary for J. Pierpont Morgan to come to Lima to find out something he doubtless wants to know about C. H. & D. affairs, and his trip will be highly appreciated if he will see to it that the boiler-makers now out, and who own cozy homes here,
are put back in their old positions.

Otho L. Hayes, the Gallon banker, who was found guilty at Cleveland, on Saturday, of violating the federal banking laws, is the same Otho Hayes who was appointed by the secretary of the treasury to settle up the affairs of the Lima National Bank, and there are many about here who remember how he "put the screws" to them.

We are in receipt of a communication on police subjects that is unsigned, and which contains some rather startling statements. The author of this is advised that it can only be published—and then with one elimination—which is not proper for the eyes—when he has submitted his name to this office.

John C. McCall, secretary of the New York Life Insurance company, has gone abroad to induce Alexander Hamilton, the illegally paid lawyer, to come back to this country to testify before the investigating committee.

John A. McCall, president, will go over shortly to bring back John C.

Peculiar
To Itself

In what it is and what it does—containing the best blood-purifying, alterative and tonic substances and affecting the most radical and permanent cures of all humors and all eruptions, relieving weak, tired, languid feelings, and building up the whole system—is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla

No other medicine acts like it;
no other medicine has done so much real, substantial good, no other medicine has restored health and strength at so little cost.

"I was troubled with scrofula and came nearly losing my eyesight. For four months I could not see to do anything. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could see to walk, and when I had taken eight bottles I could see as well as ever." SEAN A. HAINES, Withers, N. C.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

McCall, and then there will be an American colony of three in Paris.

E. T. Mithoff, a shrewd Columbus multi-millionaire is dead and his will has been filed for probate. It disposes of an estate of $17,500.

The balance of his fortune was given to his family prior to his death to escape the inheritance tax law which the last general assembly put on the statute books in order to meet the extravagance of the state administration.

SAD NEWS.

The news comes officially from Canada that no more couple living in the United States can go across the border into the dominion, and be wedded by Canadian authorities.

The ruling was made by the attorney general of Canada, because the authorities of that province do not wish to be a party to the swelling of American divorce records. The rule is that no license may be legally issued unless at least one of the parties has been a resident of the municipality for not less than fifteen days. In case neither of the parties has been a resident of the municipality for fifteen days, the reason for having the marriage celebrated there must not be to evade publicity or for any other improper purpose.

This provides another opportunity for reciprocity.

TRIBUTE TO GRAND MAN.

The memorial services held yesterday in the Market street Presbyterian church in memory of the late Rev. R.
J. Thomson, for years pastor of the church, were a beautiful tribute to his character and life. Men of all creeds and professions were there to testify to their love for the deceased pastor, and to publicly acknowledge his influence for the betterment of the entire community.

No man ever lived in Lima whose death will leave a greater void than that of Rev. R. J. Thomson.

He was every inch a man; every inch a Christian, and his every thought and heart pulsation was for the uplifting of humanity and the strengthening of the weak. His whole life work was one of unselfishness, in the doing of which the flame of his mortal existence burned low, and finally was extinguished by the Master.

There are few men like he was. The world would be better were there more.

Mr. Sylvester Bonifas and Mrs. Mary Weger, both well known in Lima.

Another pretty wedding of the week
occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs.

THE IDLER.

Dr. J. W. Dimond, of Lima, has been in town this week fitting up a dental office over J. N. Graham's store. Dr.
Dimond was reared in Lima where he is associated with his brother in a finely equipped office. He has opened an office here but for the present will enjoy the rest of the week he will do his laboratory work at Lima. The doctor is a bright and genial young man and comes well recommended.—
Waynesville Chronicle.

Mr. Harry Crandall, who since his coming to this city from Bradford has drawn to himself a circle of friends as wide as the city, has resigned his position with the Buckeye Pipe Line Co., and will leave Thursday for Toledo where he will engage in business.
May joy, happiness and success attend him.

Joseph Shipman's company presenting "Consin Kate" at Faurot's, Saturday afternoon and evening, did not have the audience deserved because of the inclement weather, yet that does not detract from the fact that our theatre-goers missed one of the very best performances of the season.
In "Consin Kate," Miss Virginia
Dew Treseott, the best individual actress who has appeared on the local boards for this season, took the stellar role. In the comedy she proved charming; in emotional scenes she was intress of the histrionic; in her silence she was convincing, interesting and attractive. As we once heard the late Senator Bruce say of Sarah Bernhardt that he "would rather see her make an entrance to the stage, lift her foot to the fender and rest her arm on the mantel than to see any other living actress act an entire evening," so can it be said of Miss Treseott in comparison with the actresses who have visited Lima in recent seasons.
Miss Treseott is a beautiful woman,
has a splendid stage presence, is graceful and natural, requisites compositely necessary with that rare ability as an actress which she has to a remarkable degree, for a highly successful dramatic life.

Her supporting company is excellent, and the play of "Consin Kate" is one of the brightest and best of London and New York successes.
Should Mr. Shipman return to Lima with Miss Treseott, no matter in what play vehicle, a splendid business would be a certainty.

Division No. 1, of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, held an interesting and instructive session in St. Rose Society hall, on west McKibben street, last night, a number of new members of the division being present to express their views of the beautiful lessons taught by the initiatory work of the order. Rev. Father A. E. Manning, pastor of St. Rose church, was among the speakers of the evening. The order is progressing very successfully in this city and some more interesting sessions are promised for the winter season.

POLICY HOLDERS

Of the Knights Templars
Co. Will Take Action.

Policy holders in the Knights Templars and Masons Indemnity Co., now going under the name of the Western Indemnity Co., will take action to inquire into what is doing in Chicago.
There are probably between two and three hundred investors in this company residing in this county, and the charges of fraud and petitions for a receiver have aroused them. A meeting has been arranged for Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the offices of Mottet, Mackenzie and Woodcock, when it is desired that all persons holding policies in the company named be in attendance. A delegate holding the local proxies is to be sent to the Chicago meeting.

Dying of Famine
is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stages," writes Wm.
Myers, of Coarross, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain, I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me." Prompt relief and cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at H. F. Vorkamp's drug store, price 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

N REVERENCE

Hundreds Gathered at Services.

Memories of Deceased Pastor Were Recalled in Words.

TRIBUTE TO DIVINE

Who Left the Imprint of His Work Carved High in an Eternal Niche.

Years and Sweetest of Remembrances Swept Over Those Left Behind.

The church people and those of Lima paid a fitting tribute yesterday to the life of one who was remembered with all the ardor and respect of a strong nature and being, in the religious field of this community. The street Pres. church was filled with men, women and children, wishing to sink in the words as they fell from the lips of men who well knew and appreciated the services and work of Dr. R. J. Thomson. It was a tribute in numbers, as well as in words, and as the church people remembered the departed divine, they were reminded by the speakers, laymen and clergymen, of the many who had loved the man so staunch, so sympathetic—who had taken his work as it is, and striven to make the better—and died.

There were three speakers, the first of whom was in close touch with the departed pastor, through association with his work. Those R. Jones had assigned the tribute to portray Thomson's work as a member of the church and for his congregation. He spoke of his characteristic, forceful, and briefly but illustrative of the various endeavors of the faithful dependence on duty and of the success which crowned the efforts of Dr. Thomson's fourteen years' pastorate at the street church.

He was followed by Hon. I. S. Morrell, who had as the topic assigned to him the deceased's life as a citizen of Lima.

MR. MOTTER'S TRIBUTE

Mr. Motter made a beautiful address, and was assigned to him, and held the attention of the large number. He said in part:

Dr. Thomson stood high in the esteem of this community. He was known to those with whom he came in contact. He had broad views of life, and those outside of his own congregation, in a liberal spirit. He was known to the other religious of the world, but he was uncompromising in his devotion to the Christian religion, and espoused his Master's cause with a fidelity and loyalty that knew no faltering.

He recognized the distinction between church and state. The bible had been his guide, and he believed in that he had a right to enter the things of the church. He was no fanatic, knowing that laws were only a shadow of the good from the evil of the world. He believed in the enforcement of them as enacted by the legislature. The maintenance of law and order, to him was the sacred duty of our own government, which he believed in.

He took a lively interest in everything that was going on in the community, maintenance of a hospital, the proposed building of a library, the material progress which was to be made in the city, he looked on with a good deal of interest. He was practical in his influence towards it. His broad sympathetic heart entered into the home of distress, and when sorrow's dark cloud had entered his life, he was there to dissipate it if possible, by his words of comfort. We loved and respect his memory, as a minister of the gospel. He was no minister of industry or great financier, but he gave a cup of cold water to the thirsty, and we testify to his service and we testify to this church that he bore with him the same and fidelity, the light yoke which he should the rolling waters of the sea. Dr. Thomson is gone from this community for generations to come, though dead yet he speaks to us with good character and a noble life such as his, dies without leaving a great impression upon the community in which he lives. hearts an altar of love has been reared at which his memory will be revered. Let us not forget his precepts and his example.

Mrs. Wheeler's Tribute.

Mr. S. S. Wheeler in tribute delivered the following beautiful word picture.

A just tribute to a just man, elevates the home, while honoring the departed.

We are here today with beating hearts, to contemplate the worth and loss of our beloved pastor.

Dr. Thomson had "The God-like power to do, the God-like power to know," and his energy and zeal cost him his life, in the prime of his usefulness.

No task was too great, if he deemed it his duty, no work appeared him when the high call of his Master sounded; thus he never thought of self when humanity needed light along the dim pathway of life.

There was always oil in his spiritual lamp, and it was kept lighted, for the Master's work every hour.

I can hear him say in the words of the great Moody:

"What rest, ease here, in the Ministry or in Christian work? There is no rest here; now is the time for battle, for work! Heaven will be our rest. Now is the time for steady, persistent, arduous, unflinching effort."

Humanity was to him as the child to its mother; weaknesses were to be forgotten, follies suppressed and the heart turned toward better things, by precept and example.

With precept he gave the Master's message, to men in such plain and forceful words that none could misunderstand.

By example he showed the power of Christianity, for he was a living, hourly exponent of righteousness, and the Divine light shone through every act of his great heart and mind.

He had a most receptive and searching mind; he wanted to know everything that touched and moved human impulses and actions, that he might choose the best for his help to men, and so pure was his thought and purpose that no dross was left after knowledge of things had passed through the alchemy of his soul.

No one could more gently and kindly place the mantle of Christian charity over human weaknesses, if not virtues.

And no one could more forcefully condemn the follies which cloak vice.

He hated sham and quickly separated it from heart earnestness.

However weak the effort, the intent must be honest to have his sanction.

He knew men because he had worked with and been of them in the struggle for living.

In the long hours, toiling as a mason, he learned the hearts of those who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow; their hopes and troubles became to him real and living forces for good or evil.

With such training, came the message to drop the trowel, and make the Bible, and tell the old, old story, ever new, of the Master and his message to the lowly and distressed.

"True worth is in doing not sleeping," in answering the call, not muffled the bell, in being where humanity needs help, not criticism.

He was the pastor of our church, but he was a minister of all Lima and beyond.

Why did the soldier boys want him for a captain?

Why did men turn to him in every work and occupation of life for counsel, advice and aid?

Why did his brother pastors love and trust him; because dedication to God was written large upon his countenance; because in his great soul any method was good, if the effort was for God and men.

He was a Presbyterian, but his creed—the uplifting of humanity.

Under this banner he was willing to work as private or officer, in any capacity where he could best help.

Whoever saw him side step the march, because he did not head the column?

As long as he could see the banner held aloft, he obeyed orders as cheerfully as he gave them.

Seeing the best, hoping for the best, working for the best, and getting the best for his fellow men, was his life work, and any one working for these things, was to him a colleague, worthy of all confidence and help.

If oratory is the outpouring of a pure, earnest heart, guided by a clear brain, he was a great orator.

If oratory is the spoken word which touches the heart and convinces the mind of the hearer, then he was a great orator, for no man could drive home the great truths of the Bible in more simple, forceful word, and with more homelike and powerful illustrations.

And no one ever listened to him who did not feel his great heart throbbing in his sermons and prayers.

Men trusted him because he trusted men; men came to him because he could and did help them.

He sought to find the best in men and stir him to action; "Be noble, and the nobleness that lies in other men sleeping, but never dead, will rise in majesty to meet thine own."

Among laboring men, among business men, among professional men, on the street, at the fireside, in the pulpit and everywhere he was the man of God, but so pure were his man of God, so unostentatious his religion, so earnest and kindly his aims and words, that the scroffer was silent, the unbeliever listened and the believer renewed his faith, and hope.

There was something noble, something good, something pure, something noble, something God-like in the personality of our pastor, so that from whatever angle he was seen, everyone found something in him which appealed to a better and purer manhood and womanhood.

How strongly and beautifully Dr. Thomson's life impresses upon us that almost inspired thought of our martyr of Lincoln!

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive to finish the work we have begun."

Did he ever show malice, did he ever fail in charity, did he ever swerve from the right; did he ever hesitate to press forward in the work to which he had dedicated himself?

For answer, I can hear the very words which he said:

"Well done good and faithful pastor and friend."

Heaven is not reached by a single bound.

We built the ladder by which we rise.

From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies."

What a ladder builder our pastor was; how patiently he toiled to place round above round; how anxious he was that the ladder should have room for all who would try to climb; how earnestly he reached a helping hand down to the dizzy and faint hearted; how lovingly he called—have courage, come up higher, the Master will not let you fall if you trust Him.

He has reached the top of the ladder and beyond, and we must still climb, encouraged by his noble life and hope that we may not fall until the top is reached.

A good deed, a noble thought, only by continued toil is wrought; Effort is the price by which we gain, toiling through the years of pain.

The way that leads the student art of man with man, of heart with heart.

Dr. Thomson searched prayerfully and faithfully, with heart and brain, for this key, and he found it, and unlocked the hearts of his people, that love and faith and hope, might enter, and it was his last prayer that these might abide forever, and they will if this church lives unto his teachings.

"He is true to God, who is true to man," and the greatest thing we can do in this world, is to see something good, and tell of it in such an earnest, simple way that some weary soul will take courage and hope and try again.

Dr. Thomson's daily life, in word and act, was an earnest plain sermon on faith and love, and we can never know how many discouraged footsteps turned and followed him to a better life, for influence is like the sweet morning air; we cannot see it, but we can feel it and know that thousands are touched by it, without taking from us.

"No life can be pure in its purpose and strong in its strife, And all life not be purer and stronger thereby."

Man Who Stole a Grip in a Parlor Car Goes to the Works.

Detective Charley Blilstein, of the local police department, has returned to a uniform and to the duties of a patrolman and former patrolman Joe Forche has donned civilian's clothes and is now working with detective Joe Heffern in the plain "clothes line". Forche's first work as a detective was performed Saturday night when he visited the gambling rooms above the Oak saloon and was accosted by a young man who asked him if he wanted to find a "game". Joe replied that he would like to find a crap game and the man very courteously escorted him to a room where four young lads were busily engaged in "shooting" the dice. Forche arrested the quartette who registered at the police station as C. H. Harris, James Shelly, Grant Webster and Tom Brown. Cash security was put up for the appearance of the quartette and they agreed to appear for arraignment at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

This afternoon, an attorney appeared on behalf of the four alleged gamblers entered a plea of not guilty for them and the cases were set for hearing tomorrow.

Will Go To The Works.
Saturday evening as north bound passenger train No. 4 of the C. H. & D. was about to leave this city, a strange man stepped into the parlor car and picking up a handsome black leather grip, alighted from the train as it was starting out. The porter on the car saw the man and notified the owner of the grip who obtained a description of the man and returning here on the first train south bound, notified the police. Detective Heffern found that the thief had attempted to pawn or sell a valuable maltese cross which had been in the grip and after a short time located and arrested the man, whom he found occupying a room at the Lima House. The stolen property belonged to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Black, of Bowling Green, and the thief gave his name as George Howe, a traveling man. He claimed he had been drinking heavily and had stolen the grip because he was short of funds. He is about fifty years of age and is well dressed and does not have the appearance of being a professional criminal. He pleaded guilty when arraigned before the mayor today and was fined fifty dollars and costs and was sentenced to a term of thirty days imprisonment in the Toledo work house.

One Other Case.
Harrison Thomas, charged with stealing a gold ring valued at $10.50, belonging to the wife of saloon keeper Andy Westbay, pleaded not guilty and his case will be tried tomorrow morning.

Didn't Give His Name.
A man about forty years of age who claims to be employed as a fireman on the Cincinnati Northern railroad at Van Wert, reported to patrolman Kelly this morning that he had been attacked by an unknown man on Boiler avenue about 2 o'clock this morning and that an attempt had been made to rob him of sixty dollars which he had in one of his pockets. He was badly beaten and bruised about the head and face but he managed to escape without losing his money. He did not give the police his name and could not give a very good description of the man who assaulted him.

WHICH IS THE BRAVER SEX?

The proportion of men who commit suicide to women who destroy themselves is, according to American statistics, seven to two. It is said that suicide is the crime of cowards, not because no physical courage is required deliberately to make an exit through "the open door," but because more moral courage, and often more sustained physical courage, is required to continue a painful existence through a number of years than to make the leap for the liberty that, according to a Greek philosopher, "smiles upon the point of every danger and in every cup of poison." Then, according to cold statistics, it seems that women are more courageous than men, if we grant that as many women as men have provoked for suicide.

A loophole for the sterner sex to escape with a reputation for bravery is found in figures that show that more suicides are due to financial reverses than to ill health or unfortunate love affairs. Financially speaking, women's lives are more sheltered than those of men. Comparatively few women engage in business upon their own account, and reverses greater than the loss of a salaried position rarely comes to them. Business "crashes" which wipe out a fortune and deprive the head of a family of a means of maintaining his position in society are not met with by women, nor is the unsuccessful woman worker in a humiliating position as the man who fails to "arrive." When women get all of their rights and these conditions are changed, the statistics can make new tables to prove whether men have less real courage than women.—Louisville Times.

BREAD BEST OF FOOD.

Said to Be More Valuable Than Meat as a Yielder of Energy.

According to Dr. Robert Hutchinson of the London hospital, who supplied evidence regarding food supply to a royal commission, bread is the most important of all the common foods of the people. As a yielder of energy a pound of bread is more valuable than a pound of meat. Its chief deficiency, however, is its poverty in nitrogenous matter, and it therefore has to be supplemented with articles that remedy this defect. Life could be sustained for long periods on a diet of bread, with a few beans or a little cheese.

A man in time of scarcity of general food could subsist upon two pounds of bread a day, says Dr. Hutchinson. He would begin to suffer from lack of energy if he got less, but could go considerably below the two pounds for a bare subsistence in times of great urgency, such as garrisons undergo in time of siege. Under these conditions it is disease that carries men off rather than starvation.

"One interesting point on which Dr. Hutchinson insists is the value of ordinary white bread. Rye, he states, is lower in nutritive value than wheat.

The next most important article of diet as a source of energy is sugar. In commenting on this Dr. Hutchinson makes an interesting statement on the duties of food.

"The unfortunate thing about sugar is that it contains no nitrogenous matter at all," says the expert. "Bread does contain some. Without nitrogenous matter one cannot get on at all. It is absolutely necessary.

"There are two sorts of food. The two things that food does are, first, it keeps the body in repair; and, second, it supplies it with energy. Some foods can supply it with energy, but cannot do anything to keep it in repair. Bread can do both, but it is better as a source of energy than as a repairer."

Among nitrogenous foods luscious as good adjuncts in supplying the defects of bread are beans, cheese and fish. The white of an egg is stated to be a very essential element of food. If no meat is available at any time bread, sugar and eggs are all that is wanted for "a very respectable support for the body." Under conditions of comparative scarcity if a child is given its slice of bread with molasses "we are doing as well as we can for the child."

Another illustration of the marvelous value of bread as a food is given by Dr. Hutchinson. "One pound of beef," he states, "is only about half as valuable as a source of energy as an equal quantity of cheese, while a given weight of bread yields a third more energy than its equivalent in beef."

The amount of food required by an ordinary person is somewhat remarkable when comparison is made with an engine. A man requires to be supplied with about 4,600 foot tons of energy a day. That is to say, his food, if consumed in an engine, would raise 4,600 tons weight one foot high every day. This does not allow for waste.

"The human body is rather a wasteful machine," says Dr. Hutchinson. "That is to say, an enormous amount of energy is not turned out as work, but is lost in heat." Considered as a heat machine, the human body is described as being more effective than the best engine.—New York Mail and Express.

The Meaning of Different Colors.
Colors have a language of their own. White, for instance, which is a reunion of the seven primitive colors, is the symbol of power, divine wisdom, purity, candor, innocence and chastity. Red represents fire. It is therefore symbolic of passion, power and riches; hence kings and the powerful rulers of the earth wore red mantles. It is also emblematic of hardness and cruelty, being the color worn by the executioners of old and by the members of the Inquisition.

Blue denotes fidelity, sweetness, tenderness, loyalty, a spotless reputation. With the ancients yellow denoted glory and fortune. Now it is called the color of infidelity and shame. How is it that yellow has become the emblem of infidelity, perfidy and misfortune? Because Jews were forced to wear yellow during the middle ages, and the house doors of traitors were smeared with the yolk of eggs.

Green is the color of hope and joy and the emblem of youth. Black denotes sadness. Pink denotes health, youth, pleasure, love, violet the color allowed to faith. Orange means divine inspiration and poetry. The muses are all represented clad in orange colored draperies. Orange was also the color of Hyman. Brides once wore orange colored veils called flammurem, and they could not pronounce their vows, unless covered with the flammurem.

The Keystone State.
More than one reason is given for the name Keystone State, which has long been used for Pennsylvania. When the vote adopting the Declaration of Independence was taken by the states at Philadelphia in 1776 six of the original thirteen states had voted in the affirmative and six in the negative. The delegates from Pennsylvania then came in, and John Morton cast the deciding vote in favor of independence. This decision of the great issue is one reason for the title the Keystone State.

It is also said that in building a bridge between Pennsylvania avenue and Georgetown, Washington, a single arch was made of stones left from building the walls of the Capitol. On the thirteen arch stones the names of the thirteen states were engraved, and as the stone marked Pennsylvania formed the keystone that state became still more widely known as the Keystone State. Probably the two reasons are linked together as cause and effect.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy scalp of hair; yet if the scalp of these same men once became infected with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply and the quicker for lack of air. ## NEW CONSTITUTION

Be Adopted Including

Mining Men.and Historic Woods

Ones.

Lima, Ohio, Dec. 4.—But little is doing in the Toledo field at present time. The Western Oil Men's Association concluded its meeting of all members some during December, and reorganized a change in the constitution and added on the mining interests. The meeting of the board of directors is held to choose a time for a meeting of the producers.

In section 29, Oregon township, county, the Erie Oil company, which has drilled in well No. 18, is showing a good producer, as made a number of fine flows, 15 and 20 same farm, are drilled.

Chauss Oil company is drilling well on the Asa Lindsey farm, Oregon township, and just east of the McIntyre farm. The same is near the sand with No. 7, a Sarah Engle farm.

In section 24, Oregon township, county, the Erie Oil company, which has drilled in well No. 18, is showing a good producer, as made a number of fine flows, 15 and 20 same farm, are drilled.

In section 24, Oregon township, county, the Erie Oil company, which has drilled in well No. 18, is showing a good producer, as made a number of fine flows, 15 and 20 same farm, are drilled.

ed 15 barrels. Mr. Peck has also abandoned well No. 1 on the Joseph Miller farm, same section. The Sun Oil company is drilling No. 14 on the Hollister farm, same township, and across from the big pump station.

In Liberty township, the Ohio Oil company's No. 55 on the Dan Mercer homestead, at Rudolph, pumped 21 barrels. The same company's No. 21 H. McIntyre farm, section 24, is a salt water pump. J. T. Frost's No. 5 on the J. O. Judson farm, section 3, pumped 20 barrels. Ira W. Shirley is drilling No. 5, Albert Mercer farm, near Portage.

In Freedom township, Joseph Arduzzone & Co.'s No. 1 D. Hummel, Jr. farm, in the northwest quarter of section 22, pumped 2 barrels. Bushman Bros. are drilling No. 13 Frank Saunders farm, section 15, and Fitzgerald & Smith are drilling No. 19 Geo. Fitzgerald farm, section 35.

In Middleton township, Frank J. Cheney's No. 10 C. Parker farm, section 21, pumped 8 barrels, while No. 19 was a duster. Pope & Tribbles No. 8 Harriet N. Pope farm, section 22, was dry.

In Hancock County.

In Cass township, Hancock county, the McCracken farm, appears to be the best spot just now. Mr. McCracken owns a number of farms and a few days ago the Ohio Oil company drilled in a well on one of them that pumped 120 barrels, now S. C. Parks & Co. have No. 14 in on another of his farms, in section 22, and it looks good for 30 barrels. With oil looks good the dollar mark Cass township, would be one of the most active areas of the northwestern Ohio field. The deep pay is quite a feature in that field, and the Van Eiman farm, which has been a greater producer of oil in his days ago the second pay some time ago at close to 300 feet in the sand which is encouraging to the owners of the lease and to adjoining lease holders. One bad feature of this deep pay, is that it is seldom found, and does not lie on a level like the first pay. The man that strikes the second pay streak is a lucky one.

In Liberty township, Ralph Moore has a rig up for his No. 4 on the George Swisher farm, section 24. The Norfolk Oil company is drilling No. 24 on the D. R. Stoker farm, same township. The Sun Oil company is drilling No. 8 on the H. J. & John Nelson farm, section 5.

In Portage township, C. L. Casterlines' No. 10 on the W. C. Cox farm, section 31, pumped 30 barrels.

In Eagle township, the Puller Oil company has abandoned wells Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 S. J. Rainey farm, section 18, and Ralph W. Moore has abandoned Nos. 2 and 3 on the W. B. F. Blymyer farm, same township.

In Allen County.

In Amanda township, Allen county, the Canal Oil company's No. 1 on the southwest quarter of section 19, on the George Carey farm, pumped but 6 barrels.

In Spencer township, William A. Miller has drilled in a small pump in No. 14 on the Jacob A. Keith farm, section 15, and Davis Bros. & Co.'s No. 6 C. Donaher farm, section 11, pumped 35 barrels.

Such a life he lived and we can best honor his memory by having his influence remain as a benediction upon this church, to make it stronger and more earnest in the great work he for which he lived and died.

Following the address of Mr. Wheeler, C. C. Miller, president of Lima College was called upon for an impromptu address and he paid the deceased a glowing encomium as a man as an author and as an educator.

The Rev. Laird closed the memorial with well chosen words.

Throughout the beautiful eulogies, the musical numbers chosen especially for the occasion, were most delightfully rendered.

The Sunday School.

The Sunday schools also devoted the morning to a memorial to the dead pastor, the main address being made by R. C. Eastman who was followed by "Father" Pennell. Appropriate music was also rendered.

Wardsworth's "Joke."

A rare old book, called "The Living Authors of England," published in 1849, commences with a study of Wordsworth, in which it is stated that he said to be the only poet who ever made. At a friend's house after dinner, it appears, the conversation turned upon wit and humor. Thomas Moore, who was present, told some anecdotes of Shewdon, who on Wordsworth's assertion that he did not consider himself a witty poet. "Indeed," he said, "I do not think I was ever witty but once in my life."

Being pressed to tell the company what this special drollery was, the poet said, with some hesitation: "Well, I will tell you. I was standing some time ago at the entrance of my cottage at Rydal Mount when a man accosted me with the question, 'Pray, sir, have you seen my wife pass by?' whereupon I answered, 'Why, my good friend, I didn't know till this moment that you had a wife!'"

The company stared and upon realizing that this was all there was to the poet's joke burst into a roar of laughter, which Wordsworth smilingly accepted as a genuine compliment to the brilliancy of his wit.—Harper's Weekly.

He Had References.

In her book "A Southern Girl in '61" Mrs. D. Girard Wright tells a capital story about General John C. Breckinridge of Kentucky. He was invited by a certain lady of rank in London to luncheon. The lady had just advertised for a footman. Mistaking the hour, General Breckinridge called the house before the appointed time and by some accident was ushered into Lady Blank's presence without being announced. The day was in June. Owing to the heat the blinds were drawn, letting in subdued light. Lady Blank, glancing at the advancing figure, to the astonishment of the visitor, greeted him thus: "Have you a reference from your last place?" The general took in the situation instantly and, with a twinkle in his eye, unobserved by the hostess, answered respectfully, "Yes, my lady. 'What were your duties?' was the next query. 'Well, my lady, in the last three places I held I was vice president of the United States, major general in the Confederate army and secretary of war of the Confederate States of America!'"

When Lincoln Had Few Friends.

In 1864 Lincoln was of all men the least commended by the Republicans in congress. On one occasion an editor visiting Washington asked Senator Thaddeus Stevens to introduce him to some members of congress who were favorable to Lincoln's re-election. Stevens led him to the desk of Mr. Arnold of Illinois. "There," said he, "is the only Lincoln member of congress that I know." Stevens himself regarded Lincoln as incompetent and weak. Henry Wilson (afterward vice president) spoke of him as politically a failure. Greeley had a low opinion of his ability. His personal friends, such as Washburn, Raymond and Thurlow Weed, believed his re-election an impossibility. Even Lincoln himself at one time doubted it.—H. T. Peck in Bookman.

The Lord's Prayer.

The question having arisen as to whether the English version of the Lord's Prayer is a true reproduction of the original as found in Matthew, a native Greek scholar proceeds to answer it. He deals with the petitions in order, translates each word with all the shades of meaning of the original and then presents the whole in this form:

"Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name—thy dominion come—thy (fixed) purpose be done, as in heaven, so, too, on earth. Give us this day our mere (or simple) bread and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors—theirs, and let us not fall into a tempter's snare, but deliver us from the evil one."

Very Lively.

A London paper relates that a crowd of sightseers scurrying across the road from the Strand caused a partial block in the traffic. The lagging of a particularly pompous old gentleman roused the ire of a held up caddy. "Now, then, hurry up there, can't yer?" he shouted. "Am I not hurrying, enbman?" was the mild expostulation.

"'Urrin'?" snorted caddy, with a flick of his whip. "You're a jumpin' about like it bit of stickin' plaster!"

A Diplomatic Answer.

Admiral Drake when a lad at the beginning of his first engagement was observed to shake and tremble very much and, being rallied upon it, observed with a presence of mind, or, at all events, of humor, in which even Nelson was lacking, "My flesh trembles at the anticipation of the many and great dangers into which my resolute and undaunted 'Beed' will lead me."

First Treaty of Portsmouth.

The first treaty of Portsmouth, N. H., was signed July 11, 1713, the contracting parties being belligerent Indians and the whites. The news of the treaty of Utrecht, which ended Queen Anne's war, reached the city Oct. 20, 1712. The Indians desired a treaty, and it was formally signed on the above date.

King of All Cough Medicines.

Mr. E. G. Case, a mail carrier of Canton Center, Conn., who has been in the U. S. service for about sixteen years, says: "We have tried many cough medicines for croup, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is king of all and one to be relied upon every time. We also find it the best remedy for coughs and colds, giving certain results and leaving no bad after effects." For sale by all druggists.

IN NATURE'S LABORATORY.

Buried deep in our American forests, many years ago, Dr. Pierce found a beautiful, bluish plant the root of which possesses a wonderfully efficacious tonic, also an alternative or blood purifier and liver invigorator, having an especial affinity for all mucous surfaces upon which it exerts a most salutary, soothing and healing influence.

This sturdy little plant is known to botanists as Hydrastis Canadensis, but has several local English names, being generally known as Golden Seal. Dr. Pierce found the root of this common forest plant to possess medicinal principles of great potency, especially when combined, in just the right proportions, with Queen's root, Black Cohosh, Stone root, Mandrake root and Blood-root, the properties of each being extracted and preserved in chemically pure glycerine of proper strength.

This compound Dr. Pierce named his "Golden Medical Discovery," in honor of the sturdy little Golden Seal plant. So little used was the root of this plant by the medical profession at that time, that it could be purchased in the open markets for from fifteen cents to twenty cents a pound. The use of many tons of this root every year in Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines—for it enters into both "Golden Medical Discovery" and also into Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as one of their most important ingredients—has caused the price of the root to advance until to-day it commands upwards of a dollar and a half a pound.

DR. PIERCE'S FAITH.

Dr. Pierce believes that in our native forests are to be found an abundance of most valuable medicinal plants for the cure of many distressing and most fatal maladies, if we would only seek them out, test them and learn how and for what diseases to use them. Furthermore, he believes that the vegetable kingdom is the one to resort to for the most harmless remedial agents. They act most kindly upon the human system and are eliminated or carried out of the body by the natural functions without injury, even in cases where it is necessary to make protracted use of them in order to experience permanent cures. Dr. Pierce's medicines being purely vegetable, are perfectly harmless. In other words, while they are potent to cure, being purely vegetable in composition and containing no alcohol, they leave no bad effects behind. This is not generally true when mineral medicines and those containing large percentages of alcohol are taken into the system and their use protracted over considerable periods of time.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and a most efficient anti-ferment.

THEY STAND ALONE.

The fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, nervous, over-worked and broken down women contain any alcohol, entitles them to a place all by themselves. They are neither patent medicines nor secret ones either for every bottle of Dr. Pierce's medicines is labeled as such, leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has pointed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians now prescribe them and recd. and then to their patients when they would not think of advising the use of a secret nostrum. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities of all schools of practice.

ALL RIGHTS PROTECTED.

The exact working formula for making Dr. Pierce's medicines without the use of a drop of alcohol and preserving them unimpaired in any climate for any length of time, cost Dr. Pierce and his assistant chemists and pharmacists a tedious course of study and experiments, extending over several years. With the use of chemically pure glycerine, of just the right strength, and with laboratory apparatus and appliances specially invented and designed to carry on the delicate processes employed, Dr. Pierce finally found that all the medicinal principles residing in the several native medicinal roots could be more perfectly extracted and better preserved from fermentation than if alcohol was employed.

Besides the glycerine, of itself, possesses the property of greatly enhancing the efficacy of the several medicinal agents employed, whereas alcohol is well known to be objectionable in any medicine to be employed in chronic or lingering diseases, where, at best, treatment must be continued over a considerable period of time in order to make the cure complete and permanent.

The exact proportion of the several ingredients used in these medicines as well as the working formula and peculiar processes, apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are withheld from publicity that Dr. Pierce's proprietary rights may not be infringed and trespassed upon by unprincipled imitators and those who may be piratically inclined.

In favor of Dr. Pierce's medicines is the frank, confiding, open, honest statement of their full composition, giving every ingredient in plain English, without fear of successful criticism and with confidence that the good sense of the afflicted will lead them to appreciate this honorable manner of confiding to them what they are taking into their stomachs when making use of these medicines.

A little book of extracts from many standard medical works of all the different schools of practice, indorsing, in the strongest terms, all the several ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines and telling what diseases these most valuable medicinal agents will cure, will be mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., on receipt of request for same by letter or postal card.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are largely composed of Podophyllin, the concentrated extract of Mandrake root, and they regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

PARISIAN CONCEIT IN EMBROIDERED HENRIETTA.

Hand embroidered and real laces are deemed none too good for this charming little home toilette in an apricot yellow henrietta. The true apricot coloring, that faint yellow that shows an elusive hint of pink in its folds distinguishes the soft fabric and tones in well with the yellowish laces and the mahogany red of the velvet ribbon that is deftly introduced as a trimming accessory. The Maison Doucet, of Paris, supply the model, and the best of Parisian taste in color and design are amply illustrated. The corsage has collar and chemisette in real Chantilly, the natural tone of the lace being maintained, and the collar is banded with ribbon velvet, which resolves itself into a cravat, amber beads making for an odd and original fringing for the cravat ends. The bertha is circular in cut, edged all around with hand embroideries and ruffled at the edge with real Valenciennes of a yellowish cast. Sleeve full and puffy with elbow band cuff, strapped with ribbon velvet and ruffled with Valenciennes. The skirt is in two pieces, a full top and a still fuller flounce. Each displays the embroidery in the form of buttonhole scrolls, and the real Chantilly is cleverly employed as entreeux and shaped into panel effects upon the skirt hem. The drop or foundation skirt is in a changeable yellowish and pink taffetas with a Paquin flounce (princess haircloth) in the hem, so that the full folds of the ten-yard skirt are adequately supported around the ankle and display no hint of limpness.

The Elks held their annual lodge of sorrow session in the opera house yesterday afternoon; and, as usual, the services were very beautiful, pleasingly appropriate and well attended. Every seat in the house, except the sections reserved for the members of the order, were occupied when the lodge arrived at 7:30 o'clock and the close attention paid by the large audience to the services throughout was an evidence of the high regard in which the order is held.

The first eulogy was that of the late Dr. D. H. Sullivan, who was a member of the lodge for many years. His address was a most eloquent and touching tribute to the memory of the departed brother. He spoke of the many good deeds which Dr. Sullivan had done for his fellow men, and of the high character which he had maintained throughout his life. His address was well received by the audience, and was followed by a scholarship address given by Rev. Crozier G. Adams.

UNITED BRETHREN

Church Dedicated at Elida by Bishop Matthews of Chicago

A FRATERNAL MEETING

In Which Congratulations of Pastors of Lima Were Extended

The beautiful village of Elida, yesterday, dedicated to the service of God, a new and handsome United Brethren church. This was the culmination of long and earnest work by the pastor, Rev. E. E. Swanson, who was given almost inspired aid by his congregation, and liberal contributions by the friends of Christianity in all parts of the county. The dedication took place at the morning service, Bishop G. M. Matthews, of Chicago, presiding, the dedicatory sermon—a beautiful, scholarly and appealing address—to a large audience.

In the afternoon a fraternal meeting was held, during which Rev. I. J. Swanson of Lima conveyed to Rev. Swanson and his congregation the congratulations of the Pastors' Union of Lima. He also delivered a masterly address on the subject, "Great Is the House For Great Is God." Rev. A. E. Davis, of this city, spoke on "Revival In Church Building." That there addresses were appreciated found ample evidence in the large attendance and the elimination of the debt against the new structure.

The bishop at this meeting spoke of the appropriateness of fraternal meetings of the divisions of different churches to hear their greetings of "God Speed." Bishop Matthews preached again at the evening service.

The new structure which is built of concrete blocks, is one of the handsomest village church structures in the country. In gallery and auditorium it will seat 500 people. The walls are beautifully frescoed, the pulpit is an open bible, on which there is this motto: "Jehovah Our God." The windows are of art glass and show exquisite taste in selection, and the whole structure is heated by furnace.

The whole structure cost $5,000, and it starts on its journey for good with practically all debt eliminated.
